We Remember Them

In the rising of the sun and it's going down,
In the blowing of the wind and the chill of winter,
In the opening of the buds and in the rebirth of spring
In the rusting of leaves and in the beauty of autumn, we remember them.

In the beginning of the year and when it ends
When we are weary and in need of strength,
When we are lost and sick of heart,
When we have joys and special celebrations we yearn to share,
we remember them.

So long as we live, they too shall live, for we are part of them.
When we sing God's praises,
we remember them.

Keeping Our Lamps Lit

In today's Gospel, Jesus shares the Parable of the Ten Virgins. It serves as a gentle reminder that Christian vigilance isn't about fear or anxious waiting; it's about the quiet, daily practice of keeping our faith alive through prayer, love, and community service. As the days grow darker and the liturgical year draws to a close, how can we replenish the "oil" in our spiritual lamps this week?

The Sound of Silence

Silence is one of the most essential elements of the Mass. Both our own interior silence and the shared external silence in the church building during and between the readings, helps us to really listen to God speaking to us and to begin to hear what God is saying to us. Silence creates a space for God.

Triduum Mass Intentions

Christmas Triduum Mass Intentions, an ideal way to link with our loved ones this Christmas is to send them a Parish Christmas card and include them in our Christmas Triduum of Masses. Cards will be available in the Parish Office and shop at St Mary of the Rosary from Monday 16 November. More details will follow next week.

'The Leaves'

The leaves were falling from the trees. Two leaves clung on. "It isn't the way it used to be," said one leaf to the other. "No, so many of us have fallen off tonight, we're almost the only two on this branch," answered the other. "Even when it is warm and the sun shines, a storm or a cloud burst would come sometimes, and many leaves would be torn off, though they were still young. You never know who is going to go next." "The sun seldom shines now," sighed the second leaf. "Soon we will go. Can it be true that we are replaced by others, and then when they have gone by others, more and more?" It is really true," whispered the other leaf. "It makes me feel very sad. Why must we all fall? What happens to us once we have fallen?" "We sink down...what do you think is under us?" "I don't know, some say one thing, and some another, but nobody knows. No one has ever come back to tell us about it." "Which of us will go first?" "Let's not worry about that now, let's remember how beautiful it was, how wonderful when the sun came out and shone so warmly that we thought we'd burst with life. Do you remember? "Yes, I remember, but look at me now, I am so yellow and ugly." "No, you are as lovely as the day that you were born." Hours passed, a moist wind blew cold and hostile through the branches. The leaves were torn from their places and spun downwards... winter had come.
